

INCREASE PRODUCTIVITY

Retool and optimize your INDEX and TRAUB machines

Optimize your production now

Your success is our priority. That's why we always factor in what's most important for your business.

Take advantage of our highly-skilled experts when adding new components to your machine. We can also upgrade your machine to match your process, maximizing efficiency and minimizing machine downtimes.

CONDITION ANALYSIS

Our experts thoroughly evaluate your machine's current state.

OBJECTIVES

We summarize our maintenance findings in a detailed report.

MEASURES

Based off the report, we offer recommendations for machine maintenance and optimization.

Add new components

Take advantage of the competence of our experts when adding new components to your machines.

When designing the production process, we develop strategies for the optimum use of tools, tool holders, and clamping devices. We create the NC programs for new applications and optimize production processes. If required, we can also upgrade your machine's hardware and software. We can also offer support in restarting your production process.

INDEX Retooling – your benefits

Quick conversions carried out by our application engineers for minimum machine downtime.

Process optimization

Is your goal to use your production machine in the most efficient way and to design your processes to be as productive as possible?

Based on a targeted analysis, we examine every single process parameter to identify where there is potential for optimization of your machine's processes. Depending on your requirements, we can optimize your cycle times, reduce non-productive times, and improve the quality of your parts and process reliability.

INDEX Process optimization – your benefits

Our experts develop and optimize processes to meet your needs – through to the digitization of your production.
